Jeff,

To correct you, I did not say anyone was draining the facility tomorrow. They first need to create a plan, which is being started tomorrow.

Dear Rick:

I spoke with Dwayne Harrington at the EPA this morning. Mr. Harrington will be at the facility tomorrow morning in order to meet with our engineer, conduct further inspections of the facility, and come up with a plan of action to make sure that there are no immediate dangers to the public health. Mr. Harrington, who I have carbon copied on this e-mail, did not say anything about the EPA evacuating the ammonia tomorrow.

Thank you for the names of the two freezer facilities. I will pass this information along to my client, who in turn, will pass it along to his customers.

Sincerely,

Jeff

Jeff,

I understand EPA has taken the initiative of beginning the process of evacuating the ammonia. I did learn that there are two freezers that are ready to accept the product in the facility. They are Davy Cold Storage 856-205-9490 and First Choice Freezer 856-696-8878.
